Creating a resource of guided reading lesson plans
Apr 09 2022 All elementary schools in the Green Bay Area Public School District are now using the guided reading approach for reading instruction. Simply stated, guided reading involves teaching students at their instructional level. This means that in one classroom alone, a teacher may have five different reading groups in which students are all reading different books and focusing on different skills. Planning for numerous reading groups can take up the majority, if not all, of teacher's planning time. Due to the fact that planning for guided reading instruction takes so much time, teachers don't have time to meet their remaining job requirements within the allotted amount of time and are unable to collaborate effectively with their grade level peers. This advocacy project focuses on producing a resource of lesson plans that correspond to the books in Martin Elementary School's book room to minimize the amount of time teachers spend planning guided reading lessons in order to enable them to have more time to complete other job requirements during the work day. This project incorporates time for teachers to collaborate in order to produce quality lessons.

The Dot Nov 16 2022 Features an audio read-along! With a simple, witty story and free-spirited illustrations, Peter H. Reynolds entices even the stubbornly uncreative among us to make a mark -- and follow where it takes us. Her teacher smiled. "Just make a mark and see where it takes you." Art class is over, but Vashti is sitting glued to her chair in front of a blank piece of paper. The words of her teacher are a gentle invitation to express herself. But Vashti can't draw - she's no artist. To prove her point, Vashti jabs at a blank sheet of paper to make an unremarkable and angry mark. "There!" she says. That one little dot marks the beginning of Vashti's journey of surprise and self-discovery. That special moment is the core of Peter H. Reynolds's delicate fable about the creative spirit in all of us.

Lessons in Teaching Reading Comprehension in Primary Schools Dec 25 2020

Lesson planning in line with the new Primary National Curriculum! Why do we teach children to read? It is not merely to decode the words. We teach them to derive meaning from the text, to comprehend it. To not just read the lines, but to read between the lines and even read beyond the lines. So how can you make teaching comprehension in primary schools effective and engaging? How are you ensuring that children are finding meaning in what they read and how do we support more able readers to learn more? What does a good 'reading' lesson look like? This book demonstrates the effective teaching of reading through exemplar lessons. It discusses what makes them good lesson plans and how they can be adapted to suit different classes and different schools. In particular, this book helps you to meet the needs of more able readers particularly in years 5 and 6, outlining ways to challenge more able pupils to support them with the level 6 tests in Year 6. It helps you to cultivate your subject knowledge and invigorate your classroom teaching through focusing on what children need to learn and how to teach it. Did you know that this book is
